Axon

The supply chain management system

Axon is a fully integrated supply chain system for small to medium businesses who manufacture as a single body or as complete assembly.

Axon uses the latest cloud technology and only requires a web browser to operate, and has several functionalities that are integral to many manufacturing businesses. The system is designed to suit your application and can be bespoke to your business.

Typical functionality as follows:

- Quotations with auto costing
- Order book invoicing
- Planning and Scheduling
- Complex Bill of Materials component
- Shop Floor Data Capture
- Material Ordering
- Stock Control

How is it different?

Axon is different to other systems because it can have a direct link to your in-house installed system or can be made to suit your requirements.

What does it need to operate?

Axon only needs a Windows browser to operate, and our highly experience engineers will install and support you every step of the way.

If you would like to know more about how SFJ Systems can help your business, contact us on:

01225 775103 | marketing@sfjsystems.co.uk